REVOLT A BLOW AT HOME RULE SAYS REDMOND

land has struggled, the victory which Ireland has achieved. Take the case of Belgium. Has there not been there the same ruthless shedding of blood of the priests and the people that is a part of Ireland's own history? Leave the questions of principle out and consider the question only of the mere interests of Ireland herself. What does the situation demand?

"Neutrality? That was impossible. Hostility to the just cause of the allies? Is there a sane man in Ireland who does not see that this meant the drowning of Ireland's newly won liberty in Irish blood? Be this view right or wrong, this was the opinion of an overwhelming majority of the Irish people. It was the opinion which thousands of Irish soldiers have sealed with their blood by dying in the cause of the liberty of Ireland and of the world.

"But anyhow, it is the opinion of all true Irishmen and surely I need not argue the principle, especially with anybody who has professed himself a home ruler, that the policy of Ireland must be decided by Ireland herself. That is the principle which has been adopted by the Irish race everywhere.

"Millions of our people in the United States and elsewhere whose generous devotion helped us so largely to win our victories for the mother land of our race, have always accepted it. However, bounteous Ireland's right to choose her policy for herself. That doctrine has been contested only by the very same men who today have tried to make Ireland a cat's paw of Germany.

"In all our long and successful struggle for home rule we have been thwarted and opposed by that same section. We have won home rule not through them but in spite of them. Their last blow at home rule. It was not half as much treason to the cause of allies as treason to the cause of home rule.

"This blow at home rule is more wicked more insolent, by this fact—that Germany plotted it. Germany organized; Germany paid for it. So far as Germany's share in it is concerned, it is a German invasion of Ireland as brutal, as selfish as cynical as Germany's invasion of Belgium. Blood has been shed, and if Ireland has not been reduced to the same horrors of Belgium with her starving people, her massacred priests and her violated convents, it is not the fault of Germany.

"And the final aggregation of this movement is this: The misguided, insane young men who have taken part in this movement in Ireland have risked, and some of them lost their lives.

"It might add that this movement has been set in motion by the same class of men who have ever proven treacherous to the cause of home rule.

"Is it not an additional horror that on the very day when we heard that the men of the Dublin Fusiliers had been killed by Irishmen in the streets of Dublin, we received news of how men of the Sixteenth division—our own Irish Brigade and of the same Dublin Fusiliers had dashed forward and by their unconquerable bravery had retaken trenches the Germans had won at great cost?

"As to the final result: I do not believe this wicked and insane movement will achieve its ends. The German plot has failed. A majority of Home rule has not been destroyed, the people of Ireland retain their

CALLES OFFERS AN INCENTIVE FOR RESUMPTION MINING ACTIVITY

All Idle Mines in the State of Sonora Will Be Taxed 10,000 Pesos a Month During the Period of Idleness

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

DOUGLAS, Ariz., April 28.—Accompanied by his staff of three officers and L. G. Leleiver, consul for the de facto government of Mexico in Douglas, General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, left here tonight for El Paso to confer with General Alvaro Obregon, Mexican minister of war.

General Calles stated that he had no idea how long he would remain in El Paso as he was going on orders from General Obregon and would remain as long as his chief desired his presence. He confirmed the report that if all surroundings in El Paso are not satisfactory to the conference he will urge them to come to Douglas where the feeling between the two nationalities is not so strained as along the Texas border.

General Calles said that he had decided that every idle mining property in Sonora would have to reopen or pay a heavy tax to the government. "There is no reason why all mines in the state should not be operated and made to support many workmen," he said. "The general stated that he had notified the management of Las Chispas mine, one of the richest silver properties in Mexico, that if it must reopen by May 1 or pay a fine of ten thousand pesos, for each month it remains closed, up to sixty days, after which period the state will intervene and operate the mine for the benefit of the employees until such time as the management is ready to take hold.

"I do not mean to confiscate any property, but to make the tax so heavy it will become necessary to operate the mines," said the general. "I have not decided what the rate of taxation upon idle mines shall be. The case of Las Chispas mine is particularly flagrant in my view as I have been reliably informed that a group of stockholders have been using the close down as a lever to obtain stock. It was what you Americans call a 'freeze-out' game."

General Calles said that he knew of no idle mine at this time to which he would apply the order, other than Las Chispas.

Antonio Pedrazzini, a Swiss and nephew of the discoverer of the mine, is now in Douglas. He stated today that he was preparing to reopen the mine next Monday. The property which is located twelve miles south of Arizpe, Sonora, has been closed for two years. At the time of the close down it was announced that Mexican cattle owners were driving their cattle to the stream which carried off the cyanide solution from the company mill and allowing the animals to drink, then collecting several times their value from the company, under duress of the Mexican court. Aside from the Pedrazzini the majority of the stock is owned by San Francisco people.

During the absence of General Calles, Sonora affairs will be administered by Enrique Moreno, secretary of state, the general said. General Calles denied the rumor that Adolfo de la Huerta had been appointed governor of Sonora and himself the military commander of the state.

REVIEW OF TRADE FOR THE PAST WEEK

NEW YORK, April 28.—Duns review tomorrow will say:

"The best previous records of production and distribution of earnings and wages are steadily surpassed. Even after great expansion legitimate enterprise shows continued augmentation, though various influences combine to hinder its growth. Consumptive requirements, however, are sustained in unprecedented volume and industrial facilities, while inadequately improved and increased, are inadequate to handle all the work that is to be done. A widening discrepancy between the contracts offered and those actually closed is noted in about every leading line. Many manufacturers, either through inability or disinclination to further extend commitments have turned considerable business away. That such facts appear, has the effect of pronounced rise in prices, and is one of the most remarkable features of the times. Only in relatively few instances have the high prices restricted new demands of premiums for prompt shipments are by no means uncommon.

WEEKLY WOOL REVIEW

BOSTON, April 28.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"There has been rather more activity in the wool market the past week although the total volume of business is probably less than an average one. A considerable line of fleeces was sold at a decline of about a cent a pound, but the market otherwise has been firm.

"The situation at the mills is not materially changed. In the west, buying has been rather heavy, but by no means general, with prices firm."

Surgery of Teutonic Allies

BERLIN, April 28.—The annual meeting of the German Surgeons' association began today in the presence of the German empress with the Austro-Hungarian, Turkish and Bulgarian chief army surgeons in attendance, says the Overseas News Agency.

The chief surgeon of the German army and president of the association read a paper regarding the recent achievements of army surgeons. Tetzlaff, he said had been completely wiped out while in German hospitals ninety percent of the total number of wounded completely recovered and were fit for service.

The president expressed especial thanks for the generous assistance of 6,800 Red Cross sisters.

Food Stuffs for Poland

STOCKHOLM, April 28. (Via London 12 a. m.)—According to Petrograd dispatches received here an engagement has been reached with Great Britain regarding the supplying of food stuffs to Poland through American and Scandinavian committees.

Great Britain the dispatch says, finally has consented to raise the blockade on Poland provided guarantees are given that the shipments will not be diverted in others than Pole civilians.

According to the telegrams the council of Warsaw now will meet the American and Scandinavian Red Cross committees in Stockholm and perfect the details for the relief plan. The plans provide for the shipment of foodstuffs direct to a Baltic port and not to send them through Sweden.

German Summing Up

BERLIN, April 28.—An official statement issued today at the German army headquarters says:

"Western theater: As the result of fights in the sector east of Verdun, thirty-six English prisoners, including one captain, were taken and two machine guns and one mine thrower were captured.

"In the Meuse region there was no change in the situation.

"The regular shelling of Lens and its suburbs and also numerous villages south of the Somme, and the town of Roye, has increased during the last few weeks. Casualties among the civilian population, especially women and children have been caused.

"After an aerial fight, one enemy aeroplane fell west of the Meuse over Dathelaville, another near Vervy, and a third machine was brought down by our anti aircraft guns near Trappe, east of St. Die.

"A German air squadron dropped bombs on the barracks and railway buildings at St. Menhoult.

"Eastern theater: The situation is unchanged.

"Railway establishments and warehouses at Rjeceya were attacked by one of our airships. Several Russian supply depots were also attacked by our aerial squadron."

Woodrow Wilson for the presidency.

"Does the senator know," asked Senator Cummins, "that three-fourths of the time spent in consideration of the Brandeis nomination has been consumed by democratic members of the committee. If there is any filibuster it has been a democratic filibuster."

Senator Works another republican on the committee also criticized Senator Ashurst on his reflection, on the republican members and drew another reply from the Arizona senator, who said, "Until you vote to confirm Mr. Brandeis, I will continue to believe that the republicans are trying to make a political fight over the controversy."

Senator Overman a majority member of the committee, denied that there had been any filibuster and confirmed Senator Cummins' statement that the delay had been caused by democratic senators. Senator Smith a democrat agreed that this was true.

military band, which blew a fanfare as their minister of war stepped from the private car. All Juarez turned out to witness the arrival. General Obregon was escorted from the railway station to General Gavira's headquarters through crowded streets, in which hundreds of soldiers had been posted.

Before going to General Gavira's residence for lunch, General Obregon held a conference with Consul Garcia, who was chosen to act as the intermediary between the Mexican and American representatives. At this meeting it was practically settled that the first session of the conference will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. and that the meeting place shall be the customs house in Juarez.

General Scott and Funston did not reach El Paso until 5:30 o'clock this evening. They were met at the station by Brigadier General George Bell Jr., commander of the El Paso base, and Consul Garcia.

After the first greetings, Consul Garcia informed the American officers that it was the desire of General Obregon and his conferees to extend the hospitality of the city of Juarez to the visitors, and that he had suggested therefore that all conferences be held in the consul chamber of the Mexican customs house. This invitation was accepted.

Consul Garcia indicated that the Mexican officials present at the first conference in addition to General Obregon would be Generals Trevino, Gavira and Santos, Governor Erriquez and himself. He said also that an urgent telegram had been sent to General P. Elias Calles, military governor of Sonora, to hurry to Juarez for the permission of the American authorities General Calles was expected to make the trip over the American railways in time to take part in the negotiations. Governor Calles is reported to be a strong adherent of General Obregon. At the present time he has in the neighborhood of fifteen thousand troops gathered in his state.

While it has not been definitely settled, it is believed that the American representatives will be limited to General Scott and Funston and Bell, paid a courtesy call upon General Obregon and Generals Trevino and Gavira, as well as the civilian authorities who accompanied the Mexican minister of war to Juarez. Mexican troops lined the international bridge all the way to the customs house where the call was made. The streets were thronged.

Tomorrow morning General Obregon will with the Mexican officials who will be with him at the conference, will return the social call upon Generals Scott and Funston in El Paso. After the return call the conference will be convened in Juarez.
